

DISASTER SERVICE

Red Cross disaster relief operations in 1947 reached the highest peak of the last decade. Within the first 10 months approximately $9,000,000 was allocated for disaster relief. Four-fifths of that sum was expended in the following serious catastrophes: the Texas City explosion-fire; the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle tornadoes; June floods in the midwest and several eastern states and the September hurricane that lashed 27 counties of Florida and 23 counties in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR HOUSE NUMBER PROGRAM PLACED

The Board of Supervisors has approved a recommendation setting up the responsibility of house numbering under the Chief Engineer of the Building and Safety Department, according to report from chairman of the board, Raymond V. Darby. The approved recommendation placed the preparation and maintenance of maps for the delineation of the house numbering system of the county under the supervision of the County Surveyor-Engineer's Department. County Counsel was instructed to amend any ordinances in conflict with this new ordinance, Supervisor Darby stated.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION PROGRAM STARTING HERE

Plans have been completed by Torrance City Board of Education, pupils may be dismissed from public school for one period per week to attend a religious class off the school grounds, according to the Rev. Mr. Roloff. "Adult escorts are provided by the religious groups to attend the children as they go to and from these classes," he said. "A strict record of attendance is kept. The classes are arranged at such a time that the students who participate in the program are not penalized by losing valuable instruction in the public school. No pupil may attend a class in released time instruction whose parent has not signed a card requesting such release. Enrollment cards have now been sent to the homes of pupils of the three grades for which such classes are provided. These are to be returned to the school office. A tentative schedule for the beginning of classes is given as follows: Waleria, Jan. 27 from 2:40 to 3:30; Torrance Elementary, Jan. 28, from 11:10 to 12:00; Fern Avenue, Jan. 29, from 11:10 to 12:00. In urging parents and community organizations to give their full support to the released-time program, the Rev. Mr. Roloff said: "In addition to the three R's of public school education, we are increasingly conscious of the necessity for stressing the three R's of moral and spiritual training, namely religion, reverence and responsibility. Apart from these ideals upon which our democratic society has been founded, we cannot hope to prosper or to survive. Every resource must be enlisted in these critical days for the inculcation of these principles in the hearts and lives of growing boys and girls who will be the America of tomorrow." Anyone wishing to obtain further information regarding the released-time program is advised to contact the Rev. Mr. Roloff by calling Torrance 131.

MILLER'S REQUEST FOR CHANGE IN LICENSE STUDIED

A request of D. M. Miller of Torrance Van and Storage Co. for a change of classification under the license ordinance from general trucking to warehousing was referred to City Attorney C. Douglass Smith recently by the City Council. Miller claims he should not be classed as a trucking firm, paying $24 a year plus a specified amount for each power

RABBIT HUNTING

Hunters of the lanky jackrabbit will have to restrict their hunting to areas outside of Districts 4, 4 1/2, 4 3/4, 19 and 22. All of these districts were closed as of Dec. 21. The shooting of predators, such as hawks and others, remain open. unit, but should pay only a flat fee of $24 a year since his trucking is in connection with the warehouse business.
